Berlin, September 6.—The conferences which have taken place between the czar and the emperor and their accompanying

Russian and German diplomats, which at first were alleged to be devoid of any thing more important than mere ceremonial conversations, are now reported to have taken the character of initiating a new concert of the powers which is to have a bearing of the utmost importance upon the future events in Turkey.

It is not known definitely who originated the proposal, but it is, however, a matter of positive knowledge in Berlin that Prince

Hohenlohe, the imperial chancellor, and

Count von Osten-Sacken, the Russian ambassador to Germany, are discussing a plan, the purpose of which is to place the sultan under the tutelage of the ambassadors of the powers in Constantinople who will be empowered to control the sultan's selection of ministers and also his appointments of provincial governors. The settlement of the troubles in Crete, upon the basis of European supervision, appears to have been the keynote of this scheme, which at least would maintain the nominal integrity of Turkey and for a time enable the powers to escape being dragged into a European war over the division of the spoils of the Ottoman empire.

To Stop the Massacres.

Practically the foreign ambassadors are already treating Turkey as a government existing wholly upon sufferance, but they do not take the responsibilities which ought to be associated with the situation.

Only the bare proposals have been heard of outside of the circle which is formulating the scheme, but the plan is doubtless full of difficulties in the way of its working smoothly. One thing, however, is certain, and that is that both the emperor and the czar and that of the czar are convinced that they can no longer rest content upon mere diplomatic demonstrations to the port, and it is well understood that the family influence of the czar at Copenhagen, and similar influences upon the czar at Balmora, have become insistent beyond precedent in favor of an effective stoppage of the horrors in Turkey, and these have already occurred, but they have been the most potent of all in determining the two emperors upon the course which it is now proposed to pursue.

Bloody Riots Feared.

Diplomatic advice received from Constantinople are such as to cause well-grounded fears here that very much worse than the present situation in Constantinople may happen in that city before the ambassadors are able to arrange for armed intervention to suppress disorders;

that the sultan's palace circle, learning that the sultan's reign is about to close, may organize a massacre upon the very much larger scale than heretofore and which will involve many other persons than Armenians as its victims.

The reports that the British, French and Italian warships in Turkish waters have been reinforced, while the German warships have not, have excited a widespread feeling of discontent which is being freely expressed in the newspapers regardless of their political bias.

Despite the activity of the other powers in augmenting their naval strength, they have not to this time taken no steps to increase the strength and number of the German war vessels there, but, apparently goaded by the utterances of the press into doing something they have now ordered the training ship Goeben to Smyrna and the gunboat Ersatz to replace the old and worn-out Lorelei, on the Constantinople station. These measures are extremely poor; indeed little better than none at all, if Germany is to figure in the intervention of the powers in front of Constantinople.

Decorations at Breslau.

The fetes at Breslau in honor of the czar and czarina bear a close resemblance to all of the preceding demonstrations of the kind.

The streets of the town are thronged with people who cheer in season and out and persistently press upon the long lines of troops which occupy the borders of the streets to keep the crowd from impeding the progress of the imperial visitors and the czar and czarina, with their suites, as they pass. The heat yesterday and today was intense and served to increase the general discomfort of the people. High prices for every conceivable thing for which there was the slightest demand were the rule.

The grand old city was draped from end to end and the main thoroughfares were profusely decorated with every kind of drapery, banner, etc., that could be found suitable to the occasion. Flags, festoons of bunting and rough, but striking, pictorial shields of Prussia and Germany, and paintings of the czar and the czarina, and the portraits of the czar and czarina were to be seen at every step.

Some of the decorations, however, were very handsome and artistic. The municipal council voted 100,000 marks for the purpose of providing decorations, and those purchased under the name of the czar and czarina were far more elaborate than those seen by the Russian imperial party in Vienna.

The thousands of visitors to Breslau, including the army of press representatives, have reason to regret the limited accommodations of the city. The military and civil officials filled what few small hotels there were available, and the visitors had to shift for themselves as best they could.

It was originally intended that the czar and czarina would be lodged in the castle and that the czar and czarina would be lodged in the castle and that the czar and czarina would be lodged in the castle and that the czar and czarina would be lodged

The republicans expect to make the fusion in the state, expecting to defeat Bryan and Sewall in Alabama, and also expecting the Palmer candidates to support gold republican candidates for congress in some of the districts in that commonwealth. The republicans in Alabama are growing hands at fusion, but the last one is the most peculiar one on record. Democrats and republicans fuse to defeat democrats, is the way some place the construction.

Why raise money in the United States to build a home for American art students in Paris? Why not raise money to secure in their own country the best art education for Americans? Is it necessary to risk their alienation from everything American, including its moral standards, that they may enjoy the best art instructions?

FITZGERALD'S FAIR OPENS THIS WEEK.

1—The Only Brick Business Block. 2—Band for Fitzgerald Going Through Tennessee. 3—Scene at Jeff Davis's Capture. 4—Fitzgerald Depot. 5—A Business Block.

Fitzgerald, Ga., September 5.—(Special Correspondence.)—This new city has a population today of 9,000. One year ago there was only a turpentine still here with a commissary and a few houses. Now 2,000 would hardly number the buildings. Shanty houses have disappeared and permanent residences and places of business have been erected. Nearly all the buildings are frame. Less than half a dozen are brick. The colonists were in a hurry to get under substantial roofs and brick work was too slow for them.

Next Tuesday the colony will open a county fair, in which Irwin, Wilcox, Worth and Berrien will be represented. A large exposition building has been erected, especially for the fair. The colonists call it the "Cow and Cotton Palace." This fair will run for two weeks. Cheap rates have been given by the railroads. Prominent speakers have been invited and there will be special features every day. The fair is under the direction of a stock company. Fitzgerald's citizens are progressive and they have that spirit of pulling together which has done so much for Atlanta. Another evidence of the colony's enterprise is seen in the construction of a "rack for fall and spring meats. It is believed by the promoters of the enterprise that the horse owners of the north will send their stock to south Georgia to be killed and if there is a track for exercising during the winter.

The colonists passed through the summer far better than was hoped for. There was very little sickness and no malaria of fever to alarm the new settlers. True they exercised every precaution. The sanitation of the city was closely looked after and no chances were taken.

The members of the colony are satisfied that Fitzgerald will be a success. All of them have not made money, but there has been plenty of work for all who wanted employment.

FEARS NO LYNCHING

McCullough's Brother Says Clayton's People Will Do Nothing Rash.

WILL STICK TO THE PRISONER

"If They Lynch Him, They Will Have To Lynch Me, Too," Is What He Says of the Case.

The report that John McCullough will be lynched if carried to Clayton county is strongly denied by Emory McCullough, the brother of the prisoner.

If there is any danger of a lynching if the jury fails to convict, the defense do not seem to fear it. They will report at Jonesboro ready for trial next Thursday morning, and seem to have no doubt that they will receive a fair trial.

Mr. McCullough was seen last night and talked very freely about the coming trial and gave his views of his brother's chances for acquittal on his native South.

"Of course," said he, "I do not doubt Mr. Alston's word about the supposed feeling in Clayton county against my brother, but I am quite satisfied he has been misinformed."

"That the feeling was high just after this awful crime was committed, but that the principal things that caused that sentiment have cleared themselves up, the excitement has subsided and reason has asserted itself among the people. It has been more than two weeks since I have heard of a single thinking man in Clayton county who said there was evidence enough to convict John, and no one knows better than our collector that there is no evidence with which to convict."

"As for the prosecution withholding strong evidence," continued Mr. McCullough, "I am perfectly familiar with every point in the case."

"But I do not care to argue or to discuss the case just now. It will, I presume, be reached next Thursday, and then we will know the facts. I think our collector, or whoever told Mr. Alston the people of Clayton county would probably lynch my brother, if the jury failed to convict him, has done those people an injustice."

"I was born and reared among them."

"We will have 11,000 new settlers in here during the fall and winter," says General Alexander Welch. "I have had a mass of correspondence all summer from people in the north and west, and I have assurances now that warrant me in saying that our population will be doubled in the next eight months. We do not look for a rush until after the election, as the men who are coming do not want to lose their votes."

"Have not a great many people gone away from the colony dissatisfied?" I asked Mr. Welch.

"Some have left us, gone back to their old homes and miscellaneous affairs here, but as a rule the men who have done this were persons who have not much standing in their own communities and whose statements do not carry weight. On the other hand, hundreds of letters go out of here every week in daily every state expressing satisfaction with the situation and the prospects. These letters bear invaluable testimony and are all the time doing much good."

"Every man who goes into a place cannot expect to make money from the very first. There has been an abundance of work for all who wanted it. Some do not want to work. Many of our members are too old to work, but numbers of them do not have to depend upon their own labor to live, having made money on their crops, but with all that was raised around the town, we have had to buy largely from neighboring cities."

"We have a respectable looking city now, shanty town having been abandoned for permanent homes. Last winter was mild and the colonists did not suffer. It was the first winter many of us ever saw pass without snow. Not a flake fell all the winter. When spring came there was a big influx for a county law, but it can be obtained through membership in clubs. There is very little disorder. There are no police-men and no occasion for any."

The influx of so many people from the north and west has created an interesting political situation, or one that will be interesting for some time. Next year they will vote in the local election, but there is no disposition to take the local office from the natives. There has been some talk of moving the county seat from Irwinville to Fitzgerald, but the colonists are not settling that, trusting to the advantage of such a change forcing itself upon the other residents of the county in the course of a year or so. Many of the colonists are democrats and if they had a vote this year, all of them would vote for Governor Atkinson.

THE LYCEUM'S OPENING.

Mr. Frederick Bryton Will Be There on Tomorrow Night.

The Lyceum theater, as bright as a new dollar, will be opened tomorrow night and the regular season will have begun. This year the Lyceum will be opened with a melodrama that has worth and reputation as its inducement. In other words, "Forgiveness" for that is the name of the first attraction. It is not a play built to catch the opening business of southern theaters, but is a play that has been a success for many seasons and like good wine, its value increases with age.

Mr. Frederick Bryton, who takes the leading character in "Forgiveness" is an actor who has won his spurs and knows how to wear them. His engagement, which begins Tuesday night and is for three performances, includes a matinee Wednesday. Mr. A. M. Palmer will and the second attraction of the season to the Lyceum in his "Jim the Penman" company, which will next Friday with Frank G. Bangs at its head.

LAST GAME PLAYED.

Exciting Game of Fourteen Innings at Fort McPherson Barracks.

The last game of baseball between Atlanta's semi-professionals and McPherson barracks team was the most exciting game of the season.

It was a pitchers' battle, both men doing good work. The batteries were Boynton and Stone for the barracks and Miller and Stone for the barracks. Private Ruckel umpired, and gave the Atlanta's the worst of it. The score played, when the soldiers had the game called on account of having to answer retreat.

The following is the score by innings:

Atlanta.....0000100000001—7
McPherson.....1120001000000—17

Irwinville is near the point where ex-President Jefferson Davis was captured after the fall of Richmond, when he and his family were making their way to a Gulf port. The very land on which he was captured was given to the colony, but was not bought.

In a memorial day the colonists went over to the Andersonville national cemetery and assisted in decorating the graves of the old comrades. Some of the party had been prisoners in Andersonville, and one man had assisted in the escape of the noted prisoners. The colony's long list of pensioners and their quarterly list averages about $100 a day, so that sets considerable money afloat in the community. Everybody had a little money to start with and some of the colonists were well to do. The only paupers are the adventurers, who cannot or will not work.

The colony needs factories and more farms. The farms will multiply next spring and the business is going to build factories themselves, they say.

CYCLISTS TO MEET

Will Discuss the Project To Establish a Cycle Track.

MANY WHEELMEN WANT IT

The Exposition Company Will Provide Grounds and Clubhouse Free and Help Wheelmen Materially.

Mr. Harry Silverman has called a meeting of the bicyclists of the city and vicinity for Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock to be held at the Young Men's Christian Association. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the proposed bicycle track at the exposition grounds.

It is proposed for the cyclists to aid in the construction of a splendid track and the establishment of cyclists headquarters in the auditorium building at the park. The plan is to put in baths and other conveniences and make the place as comfortable for the cyclists as a well appointed club.

It is believed that if arrangements can be made to construct a road track at the exposition grounds hundreds of riders and trainers can be brought to Atlanta and the track will be the place of many and big bicycle events each year. Mr. Silverman is forming a plan of organization and he will disclose his ideas to the cyclists Wednesday afternoon. The exposition company has offered to furnish the building and grounds free if the cyclists will arrange for the track.

The scheme is one which will meet with the approval of a large number of wheelmen and it is expected that in a short time arrangements will be perfected for commencing work on a track which will become the training resort of southern wheelmen.

The bicycle track project has been considered by a number of the directors and stockholders of the Atlanta Amusement Company and that company will render assistance to the scheme. The company has leased the exposition grounds and buildings for a term of years and it will help the wheelmen in providing a good track for practice and riding events. It is believed that a bicycle club can be organized which will soon be able to carry out the track project and with very little cost. There is no reason to expect that of actual construction work.

Atlanta gets a good track many of the big events of the season will be held here. The city will have other attractions of the city will bring some of the noted trainers here for the winter seasons and Atlanta will become a winter city for wheelmen for the south. All of the wheelmen are urged to attend the meeting Wednesday afternoon and hear the matter discussed.

WILL RESUME TODAY.

Douglasville College Opens with Bright Prospects.

Douglasville, Ga., September 6.—(Special.)—The fall term of the Douglasville college will open tomorrow with the most brilliant prospects. Professor A. I. Bramham, formerly principal of the public schools of Brunswick, and whose fame as an educator and disciplinarian is well known to all Georgians, has been elected president and under his management the ensuing scholastic year promises to be one of the most successful in the history of this splendid institution.

J. S. Dawson, Ware County. Waycross, Ga., September 6.—(Special.)—J. S. Dawson, a young white man, was found dead in his bed yesterday morning at his home near Bickley, fifteen miles northwest of Waycross. Coroner Grimes was summoned to the scene and after a post-mortem examination he decided that Dawson died of heart disease.

There is no Word so Full of Meaning

...and about which such tender consideration should be shown as that of "Mother's Friend." There are months when the life of the Expectant Mother is filled with pain, and she looks forward to the hour when she will be able to give birth to her child with ease and comfort.

"Mother's Friend" prepares the system for the change taking place, assists Nature to make child-birth easy and leaves her in a condition more favorable to speedy recovery. It greatly diminishes the danger to life of both mother and child.

"My wife suffered more in ten minutes with this than she did in the last nine months of her pregnancy. It is a blessing to anyone expecting to become a mother, says a customer." HENDERSON DALL, Carmel, Ill.

Of 1798 would look odd now. Anything out of style looks absurd. But even style counts for nothing without a perfect fit. We wish to impress on you that in addition to selling "ready-made" clothing, we have been making "clothing to measure" ever since we started in business and never yet have we had a garment left on our hands on account of an ill fit. Speaks pretty well for the work we've been turning out, doesn't it? We have just opened a beautiful line of imported and domestic Suits and Trousers and would be pleased to take your fall order. We don't want it unless we convince you that we save you money.
